REMOTE ACCESS TO ELECTRONIC INFORMATION RESOURCES - JSTOR

In addition to the standard method of access from desktop computers connected to the local network, we also provide all ZRS Koper employees with so-called remote access to electronic information resources that ZRS Koper subscribes to through national consortia. In accordance with the license agreements, we must ensure that only those users or groups of users for whom the resources were acquired have access to them. Employees at ZRS Koper can log in using their ArnesAAI digital identity (known as Shibboleth authentication). This login method verifies the user's identity and eligibility to access a specific electronic information resource.

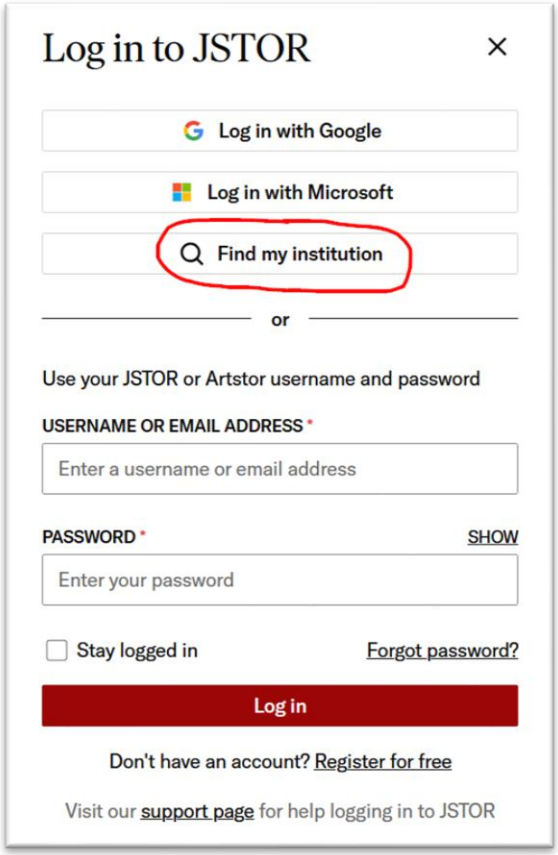

All electronic information resources available to us can be accessed from the ZRS Koper website via the following URL: https://www.zrs-kp.si/instituti-in-enote/knjiznica-zrs-koper/elektronski-viri/.

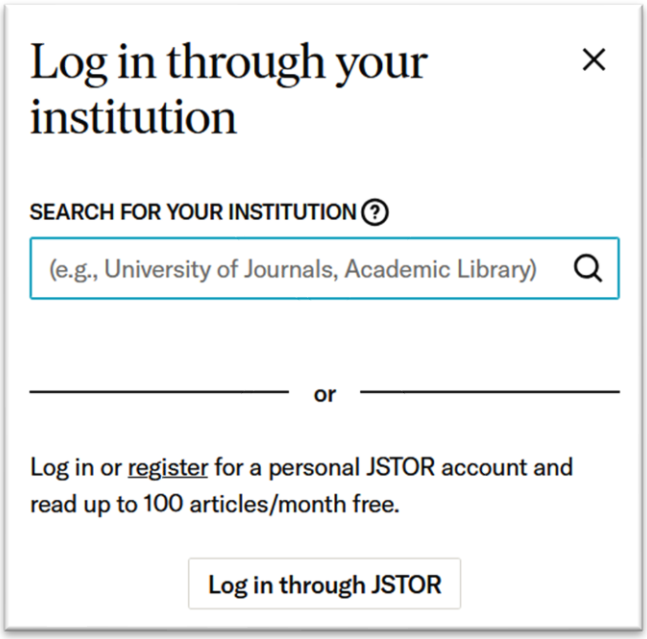

JSTOR

JSTOR e-contents available to us can be accessed via the following URL: https://www.jstor.org/.
In top right corner you press the »Log in« button:

This opens the JSTOR remote access entry point »Log in to JSTOR«, where you select the »Find my institution«:

You enter the »Science and Research Centre Koper« in the »SEARCH FOR YOUR INSTITUTION« field …

… and select it from the drop-down menu.

Selection of the right institution leads you to the Arnes login menu, where you enter your Arnes AAI credentials.

Continue by pressing »Login« (or »Prijava«) and confirm by pressing »Yes, continue« (or »Da, nadaljuj«).

Confirmation will bring you to the JSTOR search menu and the writing on the top of the page should indicate that you are accessing via the ZRS Koper entry point: »Access provided by Science and Research Centre Koper«.
